

THE BULLETIN.

OFFICE—Second Street, Opposite
Caldwell's Photograph Gallery.

MAYSVILLE, THURSDAY, DEC. 11

We invite the attention of the voters of the city to the ticket announced for the coming Annual Election. It is composed of gentlemen who are conservative, well qualified for the respective offices, and who have given no countenance to the recklessness and fanaticism which has heretofore had supremacy in the community. We bespeak success for it.

Christmas Presents.

Nothing in domestic life is attended with more pleasing associations than the distribution of Christmas gifts. O what a time it is to the little ones! They count over the weeks, and days, and hours which precede the arrival of the blessed Christmas day; and no poet's brain was ever filled with fancies more delectable than the imaginings in which they revel as the sweet things, the good things, the pretty things, and the useful things, which their kind fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters and friends will surprise them withal on the long-wished-for morn.

It will be seen that DUFFEY & MCCARTHEY are in the field with a stock of Jewelry and Fancy Goods, admirably adapted to the occasion—rings, breast pins, bracelets, and every thing which sweethearts love to give and take. Besides a large and various assortment of beautiful jewelry, they have a lot of ash boxes, of beautiful design, made from the wood of Mr. CLAY's famed old residence at Ashland, which would make a nice present to the admirers of the great Statesman. The price, one dollar, is a small sum for a memento of the Sage of Ashland.

Godey for January.

A HOLIDAY NUMBER, WITH GORGEOUS ILLUSTRATIONS.

'A New Year's Gift,' a very understandable plate, and a beautiful one; 'New Year,' an emblematic title-page, containing the best likeness of Washington that can be procured—taken from Stuart's great picture. Godey's Fashions, as usual double size, and containing three or more figures than any other magazine; an Opera or Winter Hood, printed in several colors; 'The Old Sewing Machine,' and various other engravings, amounting to between seventy and eighty, and embraces every article that a lady can wear or work with her needle, is in this number. The publisher has commenced the year with a determination to surpass anything he has ever before done, and as an earnest of his intentions he has made an arrangement with the celebrated writer, MARION HARRAND, to furnish an article for every number of the Book for 1863, and she will write for no other magazine. All the old writers are retained, and the Book will be as it ever has been before, remarkable for the beauty and purity of its literary matter.

The following are the Terms, which will stand open until the 1st of February, after that time they will have to raise their price to club, on account of the rise in paper: One copy one year, $2.00
Two copies one year, $3.50
Three copies one year, $5.00
Four copies one year, $6.50
Five copies one year, and an extra copy to the person sending the club, $10.00
